

Editorial

Dear Reader,

Starting from April 2011, all the articles published in Malaysian Journal of Microbiology (MJM) are deposited in the Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ) which is one of the 20 Useful Specialty Search Engines for college students. We will keep sourcing for more indexing systems for easier access of all the articles published in MJM.

The official website of MJM is now transformed into a new look with more features. We hope that the new features of the website do help in accessing all the information and all the articles published with MJM. Visit our website at www.usm.my/mjm

On behalf of the Editorial Board, I would like to thank all contributors for choosing MJM to publish their excellent works. Also, I am very grateful to all our expert reviewers for their time and voluntary efforts to review the articles submitted to MJM.

Enjoy reading MJM and thank you for your support!
